The following prices are applicable to standard installations of Centrex Service and are in addition to all other charges for associated services and equipment necessary to provide telecommunications service. (T)

The total charge per Primary Station is the sum of the appropriate Network Access and Intercommunication charges (Basic lines, Electronic Key lines, ISDN Custom and National lines).

When the Carrier's customer's premises and the central office providing Centrex Service are located in different Service Areas, Base Rate, DS1 or DS3 Service charges will apply. (See Other Applicable Charges.) Carrier's customers provided this service arrangement will require Channel Mileage (CM) and Channel Mileage Terminations (CMT) for each Centrex line. For ISDN Centrex lines having this service arrangement, three Channel Mileage (CM) and six Channel Mileage Terminations (CMT) are applicable when using Base Rate. (T)

Refer to the Other Applicable Charges section for additional charges associated with the provision of Centrex Service. (T)

System Charge

The System Charge is applicable to the establishment of any new Centrex system and to any relocation of an entire Centrex system, unless the Carrier's customer's relocation is within the serving central office boundary.

The System Charge will be determined at time of installation based on the total number of equipped telephone numbers. A System Charge applies to each Centrex Service arrangement or common block resold by the Carrier to its customer. (T)

The Exchange Access monthly rate elements consist of Network Access and Telephone Numbers.

Network Access

The monthly rate for the Network Access rate element is determined via a PBX Trunk Equivalency process. The resulting amount of this process determines the Network Access monthly rate.<sup>/1/</sup>

The process consists of relating the number of Centrex Service lines used by the Carrier's Centrex Service customer to the number of PBX Trunks that would be required to serve the Carrier's Customer had the Carrier's Customer subscribed to a premises-based switching system. (C)

The PBX Trunk Equivalent Schedule is specified under Terms and Conditions elsewhere in this offering.

The Company will determine the amount of the Network Access monthly rate element by the application of the following formula:

$$\text{PBX Trunk Equivalent} \times \text{Centrex Trunk Rate} = \text{Network Access Monthly Rate} \quad (C)$$

OPTI-Centrex Basic lines require Company Transport facilities and central office multiplexing as specified in Part 22, Section 15 of this tariff. OPTI-Centrex Basic lines must terminate at a Carrier's customer premises within the serving wire center boundaries.

/1/ OPTI-Centrex Basic Lines and OmniPresence applications are not counted as Centrex Service Lines in the PBX Trunk Equivalency process.

The rate for the End User Common Line (EUCL) Charge Adjustment is determined via a PBX Trunk Equivalency process. The resulting amount of this process is applied as an offset against the Basic Line, Electronic Key Line, ISDN Custom Line or ISDN National Line rate element. The process consists of relating the number of Centrex Service Lines<sup>/1/</sup> used by the Carrier's Centrex Service customer to the number of PBX trunks that would be required to serve the Carrier's Customer if that Carrier's Customer had subscribed to a premises based switching system.

The PBX Trunk Equivalent Schedule is specified under Terms and Conditions elsewhere in this offering.

The Company will adjust the Basic Line or Electronic Key Line monthly rate element by the application of the following formula:
